Dear League Members,

Hot Topics Luncheon for April: The second Hot Topics Luncheon presentation that focused on the environment took place on April 9. Barbara Williams introduced Randy Gyory, Pennsylvania State Co-Coordinator for Citizens Climate Lobby (CCL). Twenty-five attendees learned about CCL's legislative proposal, Revenue Neutral Carbon, Fee & Dividend, and how it works. We welcomed four non-members to the luncheon. One of them joined that day: Fred Bomberger. Welcome!

Julie Swan, member of the league in Northampton County and a contributor to the Bethlehem Press, wrote the piece that appears elsewhere in this issue. We appreciate Julie writing the piece that we also posted on our Facebook account. The pdf version of the PowerPoint has been posted on our new website on "Environment" under "Issues."

New LWVLC Website: Yes, we have a new website! Brigid Deegan, our intern last summer, initiated the project, Trevor Little added that 10% of professional effort any new website needs and I managed to bring it to its current form recently. You may access it by using this website address www.lehighcountylwv.org We are in the process of making sure the information is up to date. (Note: Starting in July, we will have a different address. Look for the announcement.)

Government Directory: In April, we published the 2018 Government Directory for Lehigh County. The same information is posted on the new website. There you will see "Government Directory" in the Main Menu located across the top and along the right side of each page as will be the Voters Guide in early May. We will also post a link to the Morning Call website and their Spanish translation of the Guide.

Website: The program the new site uses is WordPress. The program is popular because many members of an organization's board can update their sections of the website. That said, we still need a website coordinator.

In appreciation: Ann Bartholomew has notified us that she will no longer remain on the board. Please join me in thanking Ann for her many years of having an extremely active role on the board. In particular, she has been responsible for the publications for which our League is renowned: the printed and website versions of the bi-annual Voters Guides and the Government Directory and supplement on alternating years. Ann has developed the Membership Booklet with Margie Dunn and overseen the email account, Facebook account and the website. Fortunately for us, Ann is remaining as an editor of these publications and The Voter. Ann is also a mainstay of the long-time committee that has put on the biennial Running for Office workshop.

Interns from DeSales: Question: How can we find one member to be responsible for all of that? Answer: We can't. So, we have looked for alternate ways to attract talent and ability such as reaching out to academia. Dr. Gracey is a political science professor at DeSales University. You may remember that several of his students assisted at

BOARD NOTES

The Board of the Lehigh County League of Women Voters met Thursday, April 12, 2018, at the Woodlands Personal Care Home. Here are highlights of the meeting.

- Barbara Williams, Treasurer, reported that the Treasury balance for the month ending March 31, 2018 was $19,997.52. She also presented the 3rd Quarter Treasurer's balance.
- Board members voted to add to our league's Election Policy a section entitled, Local League Criteria on Organizing a Candidate Forum which states that "our league will conduct a candidate forum only when we have a community organization willing to assist in sponsoring and publicizing it and in finding a suitable location."

This formalizes the process we have been following in past years.

- Ann Bartholomew reported that a number of candidates have not responded to our local Voters Guide questionnaire. She will check with the state league to see if the missing responses were sent to its website.
- The Government Directories have been printed. Ann Bartholomew and Janet Little prepared the distribution lists and Janet bundled the directories into groups of 25. Board members took packets of Directories for distribution.

- Janet Little reported that the planning committee for the Running for Office workshop had met recently and put together a timeline for the event. Plans are to hold the workshop in early 2019.

DESPITE STORMY WEATHER, "RALLY TO RECLAIM OUR DEMOCRACY" SHOWERS THE CAPITOL WITH HUNDREDS OF SUPPORTERS

Although final numbers are not official at this time, the Capitol Rotunda was packed with Fair Districts PA supporters as well as groups from Common Cause, the League of Women Voters, March on Harrisburg, and groups from the Unitarian Universalist Good Government groups.

The ground-floor level of the Rotunda was filled with people, and many lined the railings all the way up to the fourth level of the Capitol Building. A number of legislators commented that in their time in Harrisburg, they have never seen this number of citizens for a single issue!

Attendees heard short speeches from: Carol Kuniholm, Rep. Steve Samuelson (D) and Rep. Eric Roe (R), the co-sponsors of HB 722, David Thornburgh from the Committee of 70, the League of Women Voters, and a few County Commissioners from Clinton County. This is the first County, predominantly Republican, that has completely endorsed both bills from all the twenty-something municipalities within their county. The crowd also heard an impassioned speech from the County Chairman from Cumberland County which was the very first municipality to create a resolution of support.

Signs conveyed many messages to the legislators like: "End Gerrymandering Now," "Gerrymandering is Unpatriotic," "The Gerrymander Ate My Vote," "Slay the Gerrymander," and even some signs specifically directed to legislators like Rep. Ryan Mackenzie to "Pass HB 722 Now!" Chants were heard throughout the Rotunda as well. "This is what Democracy looks like," and even a song about ending gerrymandering that was sung to the tune of the Battle Hymn of the Republic.

As stated, the weather was certainly stormy, but the mood and energy were extremely upbeat and it is very evident that redistricting reform is a topic that is not going away anytime soon!

APRIL HOT TOPICS: CITIZENS' CLIMATE LOBBY

Those of us who are concerned about the impact of climate change on our future, which should be everyone, could come away from the April 9 Hot Topics luncheon a little more hopeful that something might be done.

Randy Gyory of the Citizens Climate Lobby, Lehigh Valley chapter, filled the audience in on the effort his group is making to get legislation adopted which would start weaning the country off its reliance on fossil fuels. The group, which was founded in 2007 and now has 90,000 members in 450 chapters nationwide, has developed a proposal called a Carbon Fee and Dividend, and is now lobbying elected officials in favor of the proposal. The proposal would involve charging businesses a steadily rising fee on carbon emissions, until we get to 10 percent of the 1990 emissions totals, and also distribute a dividend to American households to offset the rising costs that would be the inevitable result of businesses passing the added cost of the fees on to consumers.

Gyory started by reviewing the evidence that there is climate change, its impact and what is causing it, information most of those in the audience were well aware of. An uptick in asthma cases in children, destructive parasites in places where it was formerly too cold for them to live, like

Alaska, and sea level rise which is causing regular flooding in places like Miami, are just some of the impacts, although he stressed, "not every weather event is caused by climate change." However, 97 percent of peer-reviewed scientists agree that climate change is real and the primary driver of it is man-made, the result of burning fossil fuels.

Because of the impact on Miami, he said, two U.S. representatives from that area have formed a bipartisan coalition to address the issue. Now 72 members of Congress have joined that coalition.

Other governmental agencies are also beginning to take action, he said. In Norfolk, Va., where flooding is also an everyday occurrence, "the Navy is not waiting around to do something."

His organization is focusing its efforts on meeting with elected representatives to educate them on the Carbon Fee and Dividend proposal. He said the Climate Change Lobby urges its members to show respect and appreciation when meeting with their Congressional representatives, even when those representatives may be resistant to its proposal.

As a result, "we're seeing a change in attitude," he said. The proposal is not a panacea, he said, but "even if [it] didn't impact global warming, [their] study shows it would be good for the country."

It would encourage job growth, even in places like Texas and Oklahoma, where it would create new jobs to offset losses in the fossil fuel industry. The dividend piece of the proposal would also return money to individual households which would reach $288 per month per family within 10 years.

And billions of dollars will be saved by reducing pollution, he maintained.

On other fronts, a group of Republicans, calling themselves the Climate Leadership Council, has a proposal very similar to that of the Climate Change Lobby. Among its members are James Baker and George Schultz, and their proposal is supported by many major companies, including Exxon, BP and Shell.

A market-based approach is essential, Gyory said, if Congress is going to sign on. "I want to instill hope in people," he said. "This is just the start."

VOTERS GUIDE

Candidates have sent their responses to our non-partisan questionnaire for the Voters' Guide for Primary Election 2018, and it's been sent to The Morning Call for publication.

The newspaper always gives us a generous number of extra copies to distribute around the county. Once again, Pat and Burke Swan have offered their home for us to do this. This will be on the same day as the guide is published—Thursday, May 3. Please come about 10:30 am unless you have made arrangements with me or Pat to pick up copies later in the day.

If you are new to this, this involves a counting party at which we make bundles of varying numbers and mark them for delivery to libraries, community centers, social agencies, and various other places where voters can pick them up. We are usually finished about noon, then depart to make our deliveries.

The Swans' address and phone number are in the membership booklet you recently received. Please email lwwlehigh@yahoo.com if you can come to help.

CANDIDATES' FORUM: PENNSYLVANIA'S 7TH CONGRESSIONAL DISTRICT

The League of Women Voters of Lehigh and Northampton Counties are co-sponsoring a Candidates' Forum on Wednesday, May 2nd, 2018, from 7:00pm to 8:30pm. The Forum is being hosted by Northampton Community College and will take place in Alumnae Hall on the main campus located at 3835 Green Pond Road, Bethlehem, PA 18020. Doors open at 6:30pm to allow some time to meet and greet your candidates. Parking is plentiful.

The Honorable Charles W. Dent of the former 15th Congressional district is retiring in 2018. As a result of the court petition brought by the League of Women Voters, et al., against the Commonwealth of PA, et al., the PA Supreme Court has issued a remedial map which puts Lehigh, Northampton, and part of Monroe in the newly formed 7th US Congressional District.

There are two Republicans: Dean Browning and Marty Nothstein, and six Democrats: David Clark, Rick Daugherty, Greg Edwards, John Morganelli, Roger Ruggles, and Susan Wild vying for this Congressional District seat. All of these candidates have been invited to this forum.

Please bring questions on issues you feel are important for these candidates to answer. This forum is a chance for you to become more informed before Election Day, Tuesday May 15th.

GOVERNMENT DIRECTORY

The "big" Government Directory has been published and distributed to most of the places around the county that receive complimentary copies. The 2018 directory focuses primarily on elected officials in Lehigh County municipalities and school boards.

This was an effort involving a lot of League members. First and foremost, we owe a huge debt to one of our student members, Kaitlyn Moyer, who volunteered to do the type-setting – a complex and time-consuming job.

Thank you very much to everyone who made calls and sent emails to collect information for the directory. It's pretty much up to date, but as soon as it was sent to Christmas City Printing we saw announcements of changes on local boards. We have made as many corrections on our website as we can, but you should be aware that your help is invaluable in learning who resigns, and the names of appointed replacements. Whenever you hear of this taking place in your own municipality or school district, please email us the new information so we can update the website. Don't make an assumption that someone else has already done this!

So many of you volunteered to distribute the directories that it was easier than in past years to get them all out to the public. Thank you to Doris Glaessmann, Jan Little, Sue Phillips, Pat Hudson, Mary Erdman, Pat and Burke Swan, Kathy Stagl, Cecilia Birdsell, Barb Williams, Mary Anne Stinner, Molly Faust and Ken Baumert, Margie Dunn, Lynn Kokolus, and Ken Mohr. (If I have omitted your name, I apologize.)

Thanks also to our donors whose contributions helped make the publication affordable. Their names are on the back of the directory. We plan on sending a copy to all League members along with the Voters' Guide, and we'll have extra copies at the Annual Meeting for those who want a few for other organizations with which they are active.

MEMBERSHIP

By now you should have received our updated Membership Booklet for 2018. If you did not receive it in the mail, please call me at 610 298-8946 or email- mdunn75@hlotmail.com.

I am pleased to announce we had two new members join our League. Kathleen had attended a few Fair Districts meetings and was impressed by the presentations from our League members. FAIR DISTRICTS PA UPDATE AS OF APRIL 15, 2018

LEGISLATOR SUPPORT FOR AN INDEPENDENT CITIZEN COMMISSION

The following legislators have signed on as cosponsors:

SB22: Boscola (D-18) and Senator Scavello (R-40) are primary sponsors; Senator Browne (R-16) is a cosponsor. HB722: Samuelson (D-135) is one of the primary sponsors; Freeman (D-136), Schlossberg (D-132), Simmons (R-131), McNeill (D-133), Schweyer (D-22) are cosponsors. The following legislators have not yet signed on as co-sponsors: HB722: Day (R- 187), Emrick (R- 137), Hahn (R-138), Mackenzie (R- 134), Mako (R- 183).

As a constituent, please thank those who are sponsors and ask those who are not yet to become a cosponsor of the original HB722.

ACTION ALERT: On April 11 the House State Government Committee amended HB722, replacing the independent citizen commission with a committee comprised of state legislators who would be selected by state legislators. A vote on the floor may occur after this issue goes to press. If that amendment, which FDPA does not support, is still in play, please let your legislator know you want them to support the independent citizen commission, not the legislator committee.

COUNTY/MUNICIPAL SUPPORT FOR AN INDEPENDENT CITIZEN COMMISSION: We are working with residents in counties and municipalities across the state to pass resolutions or go on record supporting the formation of an independent citizen commission to draw state and congressional legislative district boundaries.

Statewide Support: Twenty counties and 231 municipalities representing 49% of PA residents support creating an independent citizen commission. If all pending requests get passed, county and municipality support would represent 77% of Pennsylvanians.

One Request Planned (upcoming meetings): Emmaus Boro (May 21).

PLEASE NOTE: If you live, or know someone who lives, in a municipality not yet listed as a supporter (see below), please let our local Resolutions Coordinator, Rochelle Kaplan (kaplanr@ptd.net), know if you would consider (1) attending an upcoming municipal board meeting to show your support, (2) contacting your local board if you cannot attend their meeting, or (3) asking your municipal board to place the topic on their agenda. Rochelle can answer your questions and connect you with our printed resources and volunteer speakers.

STRAIGHT SCOOP ON SHALE

Fittingly for April and Earth Day, our hot Topics Luncheon on the 9th was about climate change. However, awareness about the environment should be maintained year-round. Thanks to the PA League, funding is available to local leagues to increase the public's awareness about the environment year-round. The specific topic of Straight Scoop on Shale is the link between fracking for natural gas and plastics. Immediately, our League requested funding for an expert on this topic to speak at our first Hot Topics Luncheon on Monday, September 10. During the first conference call, it was rewarding to hear that our League took the first step toward taking advantage of this new source of funding.

But, you don't have to wait until September to learn more about these facts. Here is a link to a presentation Chair Heather Harr saw at a conference in NYC recently. <https://www.dropbox.com/s/jp3rd6jyua9kasd/Kunkel%20EF18%20presentation.pptx?dl=0>. It was put together and delivered by Cathy Kunkel of the Institute for Energy Economics and Financial Analysis. It describes, from an economic perspective, the link between fracking and plastics. Heather Harr recommended slide 12, Industry Structure, to be very helpful. Slide 12 diagrams the flow from oil and gas to petrochemicals that can be turned into plastic products.

Soon, informational resources on environmental and health impacts of plastics, waste disposal issues, strategies for addressing plastics issues, alternatives to plastics and other innovative approaches will be made available on the new website under "Special Interests." Just click on "Shale."

FAIR DISTRICTS PA HOLDS SERIES OF TOWN HALLS WITH THREE MEMBERS OF CALIFORNIA’S CITIZENS COMMISSION FOR REDISTRICTING

The same week that Sen. Mike Folmer (R) held the first hearing on SB 22 (3/27), a series of town halls were held around Pennsylvania by three of the 14 California Commissioners. As recipients of a grant from Harvard School of Government, these three members, a Democrat, a Republican and an Independent, explained the process of applying, being interviewed (on TV), and being chosen to be members of this first commission.

Their explanations sent a very clear message that “average citizens, working together, can create fairer, more responsive district maps.”

The members were:

Gil Onto, a Republican architect from San Diego,

Jeanne Raya, a Democratic attorney from San Gabriel, and Stan Forbes, an independent or “decline to state” almond farmer and private bookstore owner from Esparto.

It was amazing to hear how open and transparent the entire process of choosing members, holding hearings, and having discussions on how to redraw each district (with input from as many citizens from as many areas as possible) was conducted. They traveled with a TV crew and mapping specialists to each commission meeting since every meeting was televised for all California citizens to see. They commented that the biggest concern of most people was that their “Communities of Interest” were not divided in the redrawing of new district lines.

California now has some of the most competitive Congressional and State legislative districts in the country and approval ratings (legislators) have grown tremendously throughout the state, from the single digits in some cases, to approval ratings of at least 50 percent.

The California project proves that it can be done and that the results are beneficial in many ways. The two bills: HB 722 and SB 22 have been patterned after the California model and the testimony of these members was an encouraging exchange..

a candidates forum moderated by the Northampton County League last fall and joined members of FDPA interviewing voters coming out of the polling places on Election Day 2017. This time, Dr. Gracey is encouraging his students to apply for two internships we recently developed with his assistance and that of Career Services. The plan is, during the academic year that starts in August, the interns will serve on our board and work with other members to coordinate the new website and edit The Voter. However, there is no assurance that the same students will stay on throughout the two-year term or be available during the summer.

That is why we still need members to serve on the board as website coordinator and newsletter editor as soon as possible. Having the assistance of these interns will be a huge help. Please contact Margie Dunn if you would like to learn more about the positions.

Running for Office workshop: Ann Bartholomew, Ken Mohr and Doris Glaessmann recently met with Professor Kellen Gracey to review the timeline for the Running for Office workshop that will take place on a Saturday morning in late January or early February 2019. The 4-hour training will most likely take place at DeSales University. Ken Mohr is smoothly transferring leadership of this committee to Dr. Gracey. We extend our gratitude to Ken Mohr for leading this committee the many years.

"90 DOLLARS IN 90 DAYS" FUNDRAISER

Do you think the state league can raise $27,000 by mid-July with our help? Let's try! Soon, co-chairs Kaitlyn Moyer and Erin Ondush will set up our own Lehigh County League team on a website operated by Fundly.com. Thank you, Kaitlyn and Erin. Fundly helps organizations to set up and operate fundraisers.

This is a social media fundraiser that will depend on spreading the word. Share information often (at least once a week) on Facebook, Twitter, email, etc.

Donations go directly to LWVPA's account (minus Fundly's fees.) The individual who raises the most will win an all-expense-paid trip to the 2019 State Convention (location TBA). The local League that raises the most will be recognized at the Convention. After the campaign is over and everything is tallied, local Leagues will receive 10% of what was collected (after fees). The biggest reward will be the increase in the number of programs and services that will be available to our members and public.

The fundraiser is not just about donations - we need to raise our visibility, increase our membership, and engage our current members.

How can you help? Everything you will need to know about our League's team will be posted on the new website under "Membership." Just click on "Membership" and then "90 Dollars in 90 Days."
